

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county.

THE PETITION of Samuel Black a native of Ireland respectfully showeth: That he declared on oath before the Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas, of Beaver Co. Pa. on the 4th day of February 1850 that it was bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the Queen of England of whom he was at that time a subject; that your petitioner has resided within the United States upwards of five years, and in the state of Pennsylvania one year, both periods immediately preceding this his application to become a citizen of the United States; and that he has never borne any hereditary title, or been of any of the orders of nobility in his own or any other country.

He therefore prays that, on his making the proof and taking the oath prescribed by law, he may be admitted a citizen of the United States of America. And he will ever pray, &c.

Samuel Black

Felix Mulverman a citizen of the United States, being duly sworn according to law, saith that he knows and is well acquainted with Samuel Black the petitioner; that to his knowledge he has resided in the United States five years, and in the state of Pennsylvania one year, both periods immediately preceding his application to become a citizen; that during the said period of five years, he has behaved as a person of good moral character, attached to the constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same.

Sworn in open court,

Felix Mulverman

John Collins Prothonotary.

I, Samuel Black do swear that the contents of my petition are true; that I will support the constitution of the United States; and I now renounce and relinquish any title or order of nobility to which I am now or hereafter may be entitled; and I do absolutely and entirely renounce and adjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly to the Queen of England of whom I was before a subject Samuel Black

Sworn in open court this 13th day of September 1854

John Collins Prothonotary.
